

Contemporary Artist Eric Alfaro Transcends Tradition with Launch of "Blossoms" Series

Atlanta, GA - April 2, 2024 - On-the-rise contemporary artist Eric Alfaro is set to unveil his latest body of work, "Blossoms," at an exclusive exhibition hosted by Carousel Fine Art in Buckhead Village. Alfaro, known for his dynamic exploration of tranquil themes, is breaking new ground with this series, departing from his picturesque depictions of Ponds and Water Gardens to explore the delicate beauty of floral arrangements.

Drawing inspiration from the ephemeral nature of Spring blossoms, Alfaro's "Blossoms" series captures the fleeting essence of these delicate flowers. Through his masterful technique, Alfaro presents viewers with seemingly traditional still-life compositions, featuring exquisite floral arrangements bound by a variety of vases. However, it is Alfaro's surprising twist of intentional disruptive gestures that sets this series apart. By smudging fresh oil paint horizontally across the canvas, Alfaro creates the impression of time passing before the viewer's eyes, adding a sense of movement and transience to his work.

"As an artist, I'm constantly seeking to push the boundaries of tradition while still paying homage to classical techniques," says Alfaro. "With 'Blossoms,' I wanted to capture the fleeting beauty of Spring blooms in a way that feels both timeless and contemporary."

Eric Alfaro's "Blossoms" series promises to enchant art enthusiasts with its fusion of traditional still-life motifs and innovative artistic vision. The exhibition will open on May 2 at Carousel Fine Art in Buckhead Village, offering viewers a unique opportunity to experience Alfaro's latest exploration of beauty and transience.
